

Thank You

Your comment has been accepted.

Breaking news Delays continue at Southend Airport over French strike

1:54pm Wednesday 12th June 2013 in News

Delays continue at Southend Airport over French strike

FLIGHTS from Southend Airport have continued to be cancelled today after a strike by French air traffic controllers.

Airline easyJet has had to cancel six flights between Southend and Venice, Alicante and Edinburgh today, following four flights between Southend and Spain yesterday also being cancelled.

The disruption is expected to continue until 6am on Friday.

Has your flight been affected by the strike? Let our news desk know, call 01702 321143.

Flights were also cancelled at Stansted Airport due to strike action by French air traffic controllers.

At least 60 arrivals and departures were scrapped yesterday and today - 22 yesterday and 37 today.

Airport spokesman Melvyn Nice said most involved Ryanair and EasyJet flights to French destinations but services to Spain and Germany that usually pass over France were also affected.

“We fly to around 17 French destinations in total, with around 12 flights from Stansted a day,” he said.

“The airlines have been trying to text and email passengers.”

Passengers are advised to check their airline's website